ABOUT EMERGING INDUSTRIES

The development of emerging industries will unfold a new round of global industrial revolution and global industry and technology transfer. Led by developed countries, emerging industries will be the focus of global industrial restructuring and industry and technology transfer, setting fresh agendas for global economic cooperation, international trade and investment.

Emerging industries came into being with the invention and application of new technologies in different countries. They take shape through either the industrialization of new technologies or upgrading traditional industries. At the current stage, emerging industries centre on :

New energy, New materials, Energy conservation and environmental protection, Electronic automobiles, Biomedicine, Information networks, High-end Manufacturing, Modern Service Industry, etc.,.

History has shown that a major economic crisis is often followed by technological breakthrough which will spur an industrial revolution and drive the emergence of new industries, forming new economic growth areas. Those who seize the opportunities in the crisis will first recover and ride the wave of fresh growth. Britain and America each emerged from the Industrial Revolution and the Technological Revolution and became global economic giants.

Currently, developed countries are leading the whole world in a race of economic and technological development. What we have in store is an age of innovation and industrial rejuvenation, with emerging industries being the driving force of world economic growth.

World Emerging Industries Summit (WEIS 2015)
