The XV International Symposium on Computer Simulation in Biomechanics will be held July 9th-11th 2015, the weekend leading up to ISB 2015, in Edinburgh, UK.

Important Dates

Abstract Submission:	Extended to March 20th 2015
Notice of Acceptance:	Extended to March 27th 2015
Registration Due:	April 17th 2015
Symposium Dates:	July 9th-11th 2015

Abstract Submission

A two page abstract should be sent to S.J.Allen@lboro.ac.uk by February 20th 2015 as an email attachment.

Please use the Abstract Template and follow the detailed instructions.

Following tradition of the symposium, all delegates are expected to give some form of a demonstration (e.g., animations, computer code, presentation slides), ideally that run on a standard Windows computer. When submitting your abstract, inform us if you will play your simulation during the appropriate session of the symposium and describe it briefly. Please let us know if you need a specific hardware, software or operating system to run your computer simulations during meetings. Also, let us know if you foresee needing special devices for your presentation.

Abstracts

The abstracts will be published as a pdf on the TGCS website after the notification of acceptance.
